MEETING INDUSTRY'S GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL CHALLENGES

In a global economy impacted by a wide variety of environmental rules, businesses in the 21st century are ever more vigilant about environmental compliance and corporate responsibility. The challenges for industry continue to grow as environmental requirements have become so complex that companies, regulators and courts frequently do not fully understand or accurately interpret them.

We serve clients, both domestically and abroad, in many industries and business sectors including chemical, natural gas, coal, oil, power generation, steel, heavy and light manufacturing, public authorities and municipalities, research and development, transportation, waste disposal, commercial development, and banking and finance.

We make it our business to understand a client's operational processes and facilities to provide practical, strategic solutions that work. As experienced environmental counsel, Babst Calland attorneys quickly determine what is required, and how to manage legal proceedings and regulatory compliance in the most effective manner and at the lowest cost. In fact, our team of attorneys is 100 percent-focused on environmental matters.

Each attorney practices in specific areas of concentration, such as air and water pollution, industrial and municipal wastewater management, hazardous and solid waste disposal, complex site remediation, natural resource damages, chemical regulation and occupational safety and health.

There is no learning curve with Babst Calland. Our environmental attorneys are adept at mobilizing an effective and efficient resolution process on a variety of local, national and global environmental matters.
